KATE LEWIS CORPORATE ETIQUETTE COACH

Kate Lewis began her career in corporate relations and as an international liaison, sent abroad fresh out of college to deal with an unhappy foreign client. She was tested—and proven—in the fire of this experience, and found the greatest tool in her kit to be not the knowledge of numbers and terminology she gained from her business and finance degree, but rather the social intelligence she learned in business school and in the workplace. Her experience in international business and with two successful small-business startups taught her that relationship building is just as important as hard business skills. . In 2009, Mrs. Lewis formalized her education with certification in Corporate Etiquette and International Protocol through the prestigious Protocol School of Washington.

Today, Lewis trains businesspeople and even student-athletes on the intricacies of etiquette, protocol and interpersonal skills in a fun and engaging way. For corporate clients, she leads seminars and conducts one-on-one coaching sessions on the intricacies of business etiquette, corporate dining skills, interpersonal skills and customer service. For learning institutions, she works with both academic and athletic directors on leadership development, etiquette and ethics education. Her belief is that anyone in any walk of life could stand to benefit from a better understanding of how others perceive them and how to improve that perception using simple methods that still allow the personality to shine through.

Lewis has served on various boards of directors for academic and non-profit institutions, currently serving on the Board of Trustees of The Westfield School. She writes a blog called The Civilized Minute and is a contributing etiquette and protocol expert for journalists nationwide, having been featured in magazines and blogs. She has delivered speeches on the subjects of etiquette and protocol to industry groups, manufacturing companies, chambers of commerce, clubs, college faculties, collegiate sports teams and a graduating high school class. Her first book, The Civilized Minute, was released in November 2010. She lives in Perry, GA.

Rotary Historical Quote

"Our success or failure will not depend upon the machinery of Rotary or its physical growth, but upon the extent to which Rotary's ideals or objectives are translated into positive, tangible results in personal, business, community, and international life. We shall be known by our works." — Almon E. Roth, 1930-31 RI president, in The Rotarian, July 1930
