Melvin J. Everson, Executive Director
Governor's Office of Workforce Development

Melvin J. Everson has been appointed by Governor Nathan Deal as the Director of the Governor's Office of Workforce Development. In this capacity, Director Everson manages the effort to improve job training and the marketability of Georgia's workforce to enhance future economic growth for Georgia.

Everson manages the only initiative of its kind to be conducted through a partnership between state government and state chambers of commerce, independent businesses, and the education community ensuring that companies can more reliably match the right people with the right jobs. Georgia Work Ready is based on a skills assessment and certification for job seekers and a job profiling system for businesses. By identifying both the needs of business and the available skills of Georgia's workforce, the state can more effectively generate the right talent for the right jobs.

Everson is also an associate pastor of Salem Missionary Baptist Church in Lilburn, GA.

Everson is the seventh of 10 children born in Abbeville, GA to the late Northern and Willa B. Everson. He received his formal education in Wilcox County graduating from Wilcox County High. He received his BS Degree in Criminology from Albany State University. Everson is married to the former Ms. Geraldine McAdoo who he lovingly refers to as Gerri. He and Gerri are the proud parents of one child, Ricardo DeAndre Everson, who is a graduate of the University of Georgia.

Everson is a 23 year retiree from the US Army having served both active duty and reserve duty. He was elected to the City Council in Snellville in 2001 and his council peers elected him as Mayor Pro Tem 3 consecutive years. In 2005, Everson was elected to the Georgia House of Representatives in a special election. He was re-elected in 2006 and 2008 with overwhelming margins.

In his tenure as a representative, Everson served on the powerful Education, Small Business Development and Job Creation, Transportation, and Judiciary Non-Civil Committees. Everson was also appointed by the Speaker to the Child Fatality Review Panel.

Following Governor Deal's election, Everson was appointed a member of the Deal Transition Team.

Everson has served his community well and his entire life has been one of giving back to the community. Everson is a chartered member and past president of the Snellville Optimist Club. He served two terms as President and Vice President of the South Gwinnett High School PTSA. He has also served two terms as Vice President, and one term as Treasurer and currently in his third term as President of the Lilburn Cooperative Ministry. Everson was appointed by Gwinnett County Commission Chairman in 2004 as a member of the Gwinnett County Human Relations Board. In 2005, Everson was appointed as a member to the Gwinnett School Board Human Relations Advisory Board by Dr. Francis Davis, Human Resource Director of Gwinnett County Public School System.

Everson has helped coordinate many prayer breakfast, retreats, workshops, etc. for Salem Missionary Baptist Church. For more than three years, Everson has coordinated and facilitated worship service at Antonio Graves Apartments formerly known as Grady Homes for Salem.

Everson is the recipient of many community and political awards including the 2011 Public Service Award from the Gwinnett County Chamber of Commerce, the 2011 Frederick Douglass Award from the Morehouse Republican Club, the 2011 History Makers Among us Award from Salem Missionary Baptist Church, Gwinnett United Ebony Society Pace Setter Award, South DeKalb Republican Pioneer Award, The Gwinnett Black Republican Council Service Award, Clayton County United Way Campaign Manager Service Award, Omega Si Phi Gwinnett Chapter 2005 Citizen of the year award, the Network of Politically Active Christians Award, and various medals and ribbons from the US Military. Everson is also a proud member of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity Inc. Chapter of Nu Mu Lambda in Decatur where he has served as chaplain

Georgia Work Ready is transforming our state's workforce into our number one competitive advantage. By ensuring Georgia workers have the best skills and training opportunities, we can guarantee businesses have the talent they need to succeed today and the resources they need to meet future challenges.
